

All about Luca

Who am I?

Hello! My name is Luca and I am a Trainee Educational Psychologist.

I like to play the guitar, write stories and do yoga. I have a very cheeky cat called Socks!

People say that I am creative, funny and caring.

What do I do?

I am learning to become an Educational Psychologist. I talk to young people, families and school staff about things that are going well and things that might be more difficult at the moment.

I love going into schools and talking to young people about how to help to make positive changes in their life.

We can work together to come up with strategies that might be useful.

What is important to me?

The most important thing to me is that every child and young person feels safe and happy, both in and out of school.

I believe that everybody has a right to have their voice heard.

What to expect when you meet me?

I might come and see you in your school or somewhere that is more comfortable for you. We can talk about why I am here and what we could do together. We could spend time talking, sorting cards, drawing or doing other activities. I might also spend some time in your class or on your playground so I can see what these places are like for you.

I will also talk to the adults who support you so we can all come up with a plan to best help you. I will always ask you what you think too.

You can ask me any questions, at any time.

How best to contact me?

If you want to know more about me or the work we might do together, you (or an adult) can email

EPSenquiries@swindon.gov.uk. If you include my name, somebody will let me know to get in touch with you.

I normally work on a Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday so these are the best times to contact me.
