

All about Emily MV

Who am I?

My name is Emily MV and I'm an Educational Psychologist. I like playing board games and playing netball. I love being outside in nature and spotting different wildlife.

People describe me as kind, friendly and a good listener.

What do I do?

I work with children and young people to find out what they are good at and what they may need help with. As well as meeting with you, I may also talk with adults who know you such as your family and teachers. We will think together about what changes could be made to make school and learning better for you.

What is important to me?

It is important to that everyone I work with feels heard and understood and that their views guide the changes we are trying to make.

What to expect when you meet me?

We might do some of these activities together when we meet:

- Play some games or do some activities or drawing.
- Talk about what is important to you.
- Talk about how you feel about school.

I may also come and see what it is like in your classroom. You might also see me in your school another day working with someone else- feel free to say hello!

We will only meet if you want to, and only do as much as you would like to. I may write a short report for your important adults about ideas we've discussed for supporting you in school.

How best to contact me?

The best way to contact me is by using the Educational Psychology Service email address – epsenquiries@swindon.gov.uk

If you have any questions, you can write them down, or ask someone to write them down for you and I will try my best to answer them when we meet. I look forward to meeting with you soon! 😊
