

All about Jo

Who am I?

I'm Jo and I'm a Locum Educational Psychologist for Swindon Borough Council. I have previously worked as a Learning Support Teacher, Psychology Teacher and Music Teacher. I enjoy keeping fit and being mum to three lovely children who keep me very busy 😊.

What do I do?

I use psychology to help children and young people thrive in school and further education. I listen carefully to the children I meet and consider their strengths, interests and aspirations, how they feel about school and what changes might help. I love my job as I meet so many different children and young people and help make a positive difference to their lives.

What is important to me?

- Making sure everyone feels listened to and understood.
- Being kind.
- Finding ways to help children and young people smile.
- Helping to make a positive change.

What to expect if you meet me?

I might visit you at school or home and talk to you about what is going well at school and what you would like to change. We might play some games, do some puzzles or draw some pictures. I will make sure you feel comfortable at all times.

How to contact me

The best way to contact me is by emailing the Educational Psychology Service at EPSenquiries@swindon.gov.uk with your message which will be passed on to me. You could also ask the SENCo at your school to contact me on your behalf.
